This program is about how to develop mentors, advisors, and use successful people as a model of what's possible and how to get things done. We will focus on Jimmy Buffett, who has enjoyed success in music, publishing, restaurants, products, and more, for clues about what works and what doesn't in business and in life. Whether you're looking for creative new ideas to grow your business, or you just want a new perspective on life, you won't want to miss this
